Wednesday 28th Nov. 7:30pm, Nether Cottage

For those of us who enjoy the long hours of daylight there is good news on the horizon - the shortest day of the year is next month. I wish the days would draw out as quickly as the nights get longer. Perhaps next year we will have a proper summer. What's the betting that we will have a drought order in place before the spring is out.

Not a great deal has happened to North Aston over the past month. Bonfire night has been and gone, and many thanks to those residents who notified us that they were having a fireworks party.

The oil buying scheme is progressing well and new members are joining us every month. Please let me have all member orders in if you require oil in November by the 19th.

Hot off the press for this month is the news that we now have a cheaper energy deal in place for electricity, and it's "green". If you go to www.greenenergyuk.com it will provide more details, and there is an announcement later in this month's News. The basic deal is: 17.50p per day standing charge and 12.06p per unit used. A quick calculation of our own energy bills give a saving of approx 10%. To sign up you have to have an authorisation code which I am getting from the ORCC. This deal is open to everyone.

If you do not have access to the Internet, please give me a call and I will arrange for a brochure to be sent to you.

Apologies to Kildare for not replying to him re: the Broadband service in the village. I see from the papers that Steeple Aston residents are to get an upgrade to their broadband I wonder if this applies to us, as we all work off the same exchange? I will make some enquires with BT,

All for now, until next month.

ART
WEEKS

Oxfordshire Artweeks 2013

North Aston has officially submitted an entry for next year's Artweeks Festival, scheduled for May 18th to 27th 2013.

The onus is now on you, the residents, to create the artwork that we're going to exhibit to the world. No pressure then!

The only stipulation should be that the items you decide to display should have been created since May 2008. They can be in any medium, and there are no age restrictions. Paintings, photographs, sculpture, "installations", video, carvings and even "live art" - the only limit is the extent of your imagination. Where and how we eventually display this wealth of artistic endeavour may depend on how many people decide to get involved, so please drop us an email and let us know if you'd like to be involved in what should be an exciting community project. Email info@north-aston.co.uk or phone 347356.

Oxfordshire Historic Churches Trust (OHCT) Annual Ride & Stride

Every year I worry that we will have no riders to support this, but once again at the last moment seven cyclists signed up raising £350 between them, of which St Mary's will receive half. Also, we hope that the cyclists' efforts will be remembered favourably when we approach the O.H.C.T. for a grant towards the restoration of the Anne Chapel windows. So, sincere thanks from the PCC to all the riders, sponsors and those who helped in the Church that day.

Harvest Supper

A big 'thank you' to the organisers, Mary, Mark, Jenny and Paul and their young helpers, who certainly spent more hours preparing the Supper than it took to consume it. Thank you also to North Aston Farms and North Aston Organics for supplying the supper's ingredients and to Niel for the use of his comfortable barn, now cosily heated! With no pressures to make a profit it was a delightful, relaxing evening thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The State of the Village Green

In the minutes of the last Village Meeting a rather "cutting" remark was recorded about the Village Green, ie "A disgrace to the village". While this was not attributed to anyone in particular, I feel it should have been tempered by the response given (in the absence of the Taylor family) that you have to come from a different direction – to be of a different "mind set" - to understand why the Green was not cut earlier; and contrary to the minutes, the weather most certainly had created difficulties all the way through the grass growing season. With 50 years plus of hay making experience and worry, I think that I may speak with some understanding of the situation.

North Aston Gardening Club

It's that time of year when we can get on with planning for next year's planting and hope for better growing conditions in 2013.

We thought we'd try King's Seeds this year for club orders. Catalogues and order forms are available from Lynn at Nether Cottage. The discount structure is: orders up to £175 - 35% off; orders over £175 - 50% off.

These discounts do not apply to sets and seed tubers, but we will be entitled to the 'bulk' purchase discount on these items even if you only order single bags.

Please can you drop your order form off at Nether Cottage by Friday the 30th of November so that I can send the orders off by Monday the 3rd of December. Orders will be delivered to Nether Cottage and distributed to the appropriate club member at the following NAGC meeting.

The next meeting will be on Wednesday the 28th of November. Members who have not yet paid their subs, please bring this along to the meeting or drop it off at Franca's. New members are of course very welcome. Subs are just £5 per year.

Lynn

It's time to collect up those leaves, and add them to your compost bin.

Jam Jars

You may have seen the "daft" headlines in last month's Daily Mail, about new EU directives that could result in fines of up to £5000 for "offenders" who re-use jam jars to make home-made preserves, jams and pickles, and then offer them for sale.

Under the Food Standard Agency's guidelines, it is fine to re-use jars for your own use and to give as gifts to friends. What you should not do is either sell or give these foodstuffs away at a public event. The crux is whether or not the item is "placed on the market", which means "the holding of food or feed for the purpose of sale, including offering for sale or any other form of transfer, whether free of charge or not, and the sale, distribution, and other forms of transfer themselves."

Sadly, this means that jams and preserves cannot, legally, even be offered as prizes in raffles or sold at events like the Village Fête, without a "Declaration of Compliance" certificate – which any home producer is unlikely to possess. For further information visit www.food.gov.uk.

Merry Christmas!

Announcing the Launch of Rural Dual Fuel

The equation is complete - Rural Energy just got a lot fairer!

Community Buying unLimited (CBL) has chosen to partner with Green Energy UK to form a unique package exclusive to the CBL membership. Rural Energy just got a whole lot greener too!

... it's Unique, it's Ethical, it's an energy & money-saving package and by joining you will be helping to make Rural Energy fairer. We are excited to announce the Electricity deal in our bespoke Rural Dual Fuel package ... switch to Rural Dual Fuel and every unit you use will be GREEN.

Every single unit is certified as environmentally friendly because Green Energy UK only buys green electricity from OFGEM-approved Green & Renewable suppliers.

Call free on 0800 783 8851 and get all of your queries answered.

Quote "Community Buying" to access the exclusive deal and speak to the award-winning customer service team. The lines open at 8.30 am on Monday 22nd October.

Who or what is Green Energy UK? They are the clever people that can do something with what comes out the back of a pig and sell it to us at the same rate other suppliers sell us standard fossil fuel based power!

"There is a general misconception that green energy means expensive energy, however, that doesn't always have to be the case ... our prices are competitive not only within the green market, but also the entire utilities industry," says Douglas Stewart Chief Executive.

What's the Deal?

1 - The Price Match Pledge.

Green Energy pledges to match the regional supplier in your area. With the current price hikes this means the price all members can switch to right now could be considerably cheaper until at least the end of the year

2 - Save up to £75 a year with a FREE power down plug.

Every new customer will receive a FREE power-down plug that automatically switches off devices that are left on standby, thereby saving up to £75 per year. That will save money by actually saving energy!

3 - Loyalty Bonus

Green Energy UK rewards loyalty by paying each customer £25 a year from the third anniversary onwards. Unique for existing members, that will be back-dated to the day you joined CBL, which could be from your very first Green Energy UK anniversary.

4 - Become an energy company owner!

Green Energy UK rewards every new customer with a share in the company, so you actually become part owner of this energy company. This allows you to attend the AGM, have your say, and actually influence the company that supplies your electricity! You can receive more shares if you recommend friends to join the scheme and they enrol.

5 - Win a Kindle Touch, a hand made silk scarf or an air-test for your home.

The first 500 callers - whether they choose to switch or not - will be entered into a draw to win a handmade silk scarf worth £80. The first 100 members that actually switch their electricity to Green Energy UK will be entered into a draw to win a Kindle Touch and an air-test for their home that can show how to reduce energy bills by up to 30%.

Any questions? Please call 0800 783 8851 on or after 22nd October

No matter how long it takes, all your queries will be answered for free, so you know exactly what the costs are, how it works and how to begin the switch right then on the phone. Green Energy UK pride themselves on their transparent, "no reason to complain, no reason to leave" customer service attitude that starts with "doing the right thing for the customer".

Will this suit everyone? Not necessarily. It won't suit those who constantly switch suppliers and those that need to know the exact unit price, as we are not allowed to quote unit prices. However, this is different: firstly, it's "Green", and secondly, it's a package that is already better than anything else on the market. We shall also develop it by adding more and more benefits to bring energy costs down.

Remember - Everyone needs to register their interest so that we can identify them with their unique number on the Rural Dual Fuel database: www.ruraldualfuel.co.uk.

The Nights are Drawing In!

The clocks have gone back, the dark nights are approaching, and the Thames Valley Police anti-burglary team has produced a plan to try and prevent or reduce the traditional increase we get in house burglaries at this time of year.

We suffered 34 house burglaries in November last year in the Cherwell area (Banbury, Bicester, Kidlington and everywhere in between). This may not sound a lot, but November is by far the worst month for these crimes.

The spring/summer campaign, "Don't Get Burnt", was relatively successful. House burglaries were down by over 21% (when compared with the same period last year) and detection rates achieved 37%. This has in part been down to householders securing their properties better and contacting police with information, so thank you for your help throughout the summer.

Late Home from Work

The winter holds a different set of challenges. With the clocks gone back, night descends at four pm. For those that don't get home from work until six, that means easy pickings for opportunist thieves, who can easily spot an empty house.

There are some easy and inexpensive actions you can take to protect your property and help us prevent you from becoming a victim of burglary.

Consider how your house looks when you arrive home in the dark. If it looks cold and empty to you, then what does it look like to a burglar? Most offences of burglary are opportunistic. Properties are not generally targeted but offenders will see a chance and take it.

The Lights are on, but Nobody's Home!

A cheap device for deterring burglars is a timer plug which you can set to switch a lamp on when it gets dark. These can also be used to switch on a radio, which can easily give the impression of people being at home.

There are also devices such as "dusk-till-dawn" bulbs that automatically switch on when it becomes dark, and other lamps which simulate the flicker of a television, all of which can help to make it look like somebody is home.

Be a Good Neighbour

Other actions, such as getting your bins in after they have been emptied and pushing mail through letter boxes can also help. Don't be afraid to walk up somebody's drive and push junk mail through the letter box if it's sticking out!

We encourage good neighbour schemes and ask that you keep an eye on your neighbour's houses. You know better than anyone else when something is out of place or suspicious in your own street, and if you see something you are not sure about, give us a call on the non-emergency 101 telephone number, or dial 999 in an emergency and we will come and check it out. Action always beats re-action!

Mane Platting

Over recent weeks unknown persons have been platting the mane of a pony near Bicester. It is not known exactly when this has been taking place, but information suggests that this is a sign to a particular criminal fraternity for the horse to be stolen. If you have recently experienced this issue or do in the future please call 101, the TVP non-emergency number.

Distraction Burglary

On the afternoon of the 12th October an 84 year-old resident was victim to a burglary in Kidlington which can be a lesson to us all. The offender pretended to be from the water board. He was described as a white male, between 30 to 40 years old of medium build and approximately 5 feet 6 inches tall. He was wearing a dark hat and a dark coat. TVP are seeking witnesses, so if you have any information please contact them on 101. If not, just be wary of anyone asking to enter your property, and insist on seeing identification.

Offender Brought to Justice

In September we reported the theft of two vehicles from Westfield Farm, Steeple Aston. After some good work by PC Sullivan, Robert Jackson has now been reported for summons for the theft of both vehicles.

Should you wish to speak to a local officer about crime prevention, advice on securing your property, deterring burglars, or any other aspect of our work, please contact Thames Valley Police on 101.

COFFEE MORNING

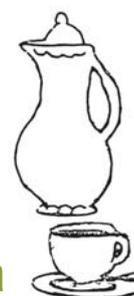

Come and join us for an informal get-together at the Bakery on the first Wednesday of each month. Tea, coffee and cakes will be served from 10:30am till 12:00 noon.

EVERYONE WELCOME!

If you would like transport, or a helping hand across the road, please ring Gwen Short (01295 810762) or Beryl Greenwood (340122) to arrange.

We hope to see you on Wednesday November 7th

We are sorry to report that ill health has meant that Ken Stewart has had to leave Park Farm House and move north to Yorkshire to be closer to his relatives. Local Roadworks

Several of the roads and lanes nearby are subject to closures and potential hold-ups over the coming weeks.

As some may already have discovered, the railway bridge between Somerton and Ardley is already closed, and will remain shut for some time - perhaps well into the New Year. This is required for complete refurbishment of the steelwork of the bridge, which will include grit blasting, structural repairs and repainting. Additional remedial work to the brickwork may also be carried out, as necessary.

Somerton Road in Upper Heyford is also subject to occasional closure while the overhead power lines are replaced. 11 of the wooden support poles are being renewed as well as the intermediate cabling.

Councillor Calling

Free Parking!

It has been announced that parking will be free in Bicester and Banbury on Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays in the run-up to Christmas – check the signs for details, of course, to make sure you've got the right day and don't get caught out! It's going to cost £100k in lost revenue but should help both traders and the rest of us in these tough times, especially in Bicester which will then be at the peak of its building works. Do, please, take advantage of it to support our local shops and businesses.

Press Reaction

This told a strange story: the Bicester Advertiser lined up a vocal group to say this wasn't enough and to demand more (at what cost to the taxpayer?) while the Banbury Guardian reported a series of positive responses welcoming the offer and urged readers to come and shop in town. I suppose that's the difference between pessimism and optimism – but I'd rather have a paper that supports its town than one which is so relentlessly knocking and negative.

Upcoming Traffic

Traffic is indeed going to be difficult in Bicester for some time (31 weeks according to the signs but, if things go well, it could be less) as all the roads are re-jigged to connect up the roof top car park above the new Sainsbury, to get buses to their new bus station, make St John Street two-way and generally unclog through traffic while getting shoppers in and out of the town centre. We'll all need a lot of patience (though the end is in sight, with Sainsbury apparently now on track to open as early as the summer). Thanks to the (totally unconnected) gas main diggings in the Buckingham Road, I've already got used to going round the northern route to the station (as taxi drivers always have, so the penny should have dropped sooner) and I suspect we'll all be doing that when we don't need to reach the town centre itself.

Planning

The Oxford Canal is now officially a Conservation Area so any development which might affect its setting must, from now on, "preserve or enhance" this treasure. Bicester's future is taking shape with the end of consultations on 10th October on its Masterplan, while the Banbury Masterplan is getting ready for your comments. There was a big response to the Local Plan, including my pennyworth, which picked up lots of general issues as well, crucially, as several points that would have impacted the Astons & Heyfords if they had slipped through. Now the battle is on to make sure those changes are implemented!

Developers

Meanwhile, developers are already trying their luck on sites which get a mention in these, as yet unapproved, Plans, hoping to find a sympathetic Inspector on appeal and get lucky – not exactly the way "Plan-led development" is supposed to happen. Such premature applications, of course, turn the whole Plan system back-to-front so I hope Inspectors can be persuaded to hold the line until we've gone through the proper process and everyone has had their say taken into account.

On the Rails

Rail plans are moving on in the background, with a Development Board now formed to manage the East-West Link from Oxford via Bicester Town over to Bedford. Combined with the Evergreen Project to upgrade the Oxford-Bicester line, developing a park-and-ride station in place of those hideous wartime grain silos south of Kidlington and linking to the Marylebone line. This will hugely improve our public transport options, not in some distant future but in the next couple of years.

Finances

These brought a bit of a cloud in the month with changes to Government grants and the handing of welfare payment funding (though with less funds!) to councils adding up to a £2.6million shortfall over the period 2013-17. Before we panic, this is, of course, the cumulative total so the savings required in each of those years is a lot more manageable than the headline millions might make us fear. But we still need to brace ourselves because, over recent years, we have relentlessly ground out efficiencies within the council and, when those began to run dry, merged management with South Northants District to save yet more. So the $64,000 question, if we are not to cut services, is where next? Expect much agonising and hard thinking.

Council Tax

The decision on Council Tax for next year is now quite straightforward: keep it the same and there's a 1% bonus Government grant, increase it by up to 2% and you're on your own, increase over 2% and you need an expensive local referendum which will eat up most of the increase – you don't need the brains of an Archbishop to guess the preferred option!

Having somehow got on to Bishops, I'll end with the splendid St Frideswide service in Christ Church Cathedral, where the representatives of the county civic, university and ecclesiastical gathered for the annual commemoration of Oxford's founder. I was there to represent St John Ambulance and so, from a humble place, could enjoy the procession of chains, maces and mitres as we went to lay our sprigs of rosemary on her tomb – a wonderful celebration to be part of.
